

Institute for International Economics, so he is receiving the largest award. This is an award in previous years that's gone to Dick Cheney, Gerald Ford, Tom Osborne and Woody Varner. Virgil Eihusen, from Grand Island, is being honored with the Wagonmaster Award. He is a recognized business leader in our community. He is the head of Chief Industries which now employs over a thousand persons in the central part of our state. The Trailblazer Award goes to Bob Boozer. Bob Boozer is currently involved with the Director of Legislative and Community Affairs of US West Communications; definite community leader in the City of Omaha. He also had a distinguished career prior to this as an Olympic basketball player. And, finally, a Pioneer Award goes to Alice Dittman who is the President of the Nebraska Bankers Association, a real leader in the Lincoln business community and a real leader in the Nebraska bankers community. With that, I commend all six of these individuals, offer congratulations to them for being distinguished with these awards and would ask that the Legislature go on record congratulating all of these individuals for the receipt of these awards.
